1) Palladio Villas, The Duomo, Bell Towers And Palaces History, Techniques And Examples Of Intervention Seminars In Sydney And Melbourne, September 2005

SYDNEY: Thursday 1 and Friday 2 September 2005, NSW Heritage Office, Parramatta
MELBOURNE: Thursday 8 and Friday 9 September 2005, 9.00am to 5.00pm. Ormond College, University of Melbourne.

Australia ICOMOS supports this event, along with Heritage Victoria and the National Trust (in Melbourne), and the NSW Heritage Office (the event manager for Sydney). It is a RAIA registered activity. The ISS has generously offered ICOMOS members a 10% discount on the already very reasonable registration fee for the Melbourne seminars.

The seminar will feature two speakers from Venice - Ruggero Boschi and Ferruccio Zecchin. The Cultural Commission of the Vencentini in the World is supporting their program in Australia with ISS. The focus will be on the history, techniques and examples of intervention in the field of conservation and restoration. There will be ample opportunity for discussion.

The number of places is limited, and booking is essential. The pdf brochure is available from ISS, or from our Secretariat (contact kristal@bigpond.net.au). Melbourne bookings and inquiries should be directed to Carolynne Bourne, CEO of the ISS Institute (email: issi.ceo@pacific.net.au). Sydney bookings should be directed to the NSW Heritage Office (elizabeth.broomhead@heritage.nsw.gov.au).

2) Conference: Angkor - Landscape, City and Temple

University of Sydney, Sydney, Australia. 18 - 23 July 2006

Conference July 18 - 21
Public Symposium July 22 - 23
Specialist workshops July 22 - 23

The conference will provide an opportunity for the international community of researchers involved with Angkor to come together and present work from the 1990s onwards, discuss future directions and collaboration and participate in specialist workshops and training sessions.

Activities will include formal conference papers, poster displays, specialist workshops and roundtables, training sessions and a public symposium. The conference will be organised around three themes:

- Economy and Environment
- City and Daily Life
- Monuments and Art

Each theme will include a keynote address, regional and global perspectives and detailed studies of the Prehistoric, Pre-Angkorian, Angkorian and Post-Angkorian periods.

Publication
The conference committee intends to publish a three-volume, refereed academic publication (one volume per theme) which will provide an authoritative review of Angkorian studies over the last decade. An additional volume with selected papers will be prepared for a wider public audience. Long Abstracts (up to 3 pages plus figures) will be published in a preliminary proceedings volume, accompanied by a CD, which will be made available at the conference.

Registration
To register interest in the conference, and to ensure that you will receive updated information, please register on the conference web site:

In addition to registering interest, you can submit proposals and short abstracts (max 200 words) for papers, posters, workshops, training sessions and other conference activities.

Formal registration will be available via the web site in September.

Full registration cost is expected to be approximately US$250, with a discount for students. Some bursaries to assist with travel and accommodation may be available.
3) 3rd Global Summit on Peace through Tourism: Thailand

Dear Colleague:

The International Institute for Peace through Tourism (IIPT) is honored to invite your participation in the 3rd Global Summit on Peace through Tourism being held at the award winning Royal Cliff Beach Resort, Pattaya, Thailand, October 2-5, 2005.

The Summit is in support of the UN Decade of Peace and Non-Violence for the Children of the World and the UN Millennium Development Goals. It is being organized by the International Institute for Peace through Tourism (IIPT); supported by the Thailand Convention & Exhibition Bureau (TCEB); and with the support of the World Tourism Organization (WTO). The Theme of the Summit is: One Earth, One Family: Travel and Tourism - Serving a Higher Purpose. The Aim of the Summit is to develop a 21st Century Agenda for Peace through Tourism that addresses key global issues of our time including:

- A sustained travel industry response to economic and social re-vitalization of tsunami affected areas;
- Promoting cultural and international understanding, tolerance, and cooperation;
- Poverty reduction;
- Healing the wounds of conflict;
- Ecological enhancement and preservation of biodiversity.

The Summit seeks to facilitate strategic partnerships and alliances among governments, the private sector, donor agencies, and NGOs to achieve these goals. The program is designed to demonstrate and share information on current initiatives that are contributing to a 21st Century Agenda for Peace through Tourism.

Special Focus on Travel Industry Response to Post-Tsunami Revitalization:
A key goal of the 3rd Global Summit on Peace through Tourism is to develop a sustained travel industry response to the social and economic revitalization of tsunami affected countries in support of the Pacific Asia Travel Association (PATA).

A plenary session to be moderated by PATA President and CEO Peter DeJong will focus on identifying actions and strategies by which the travel and tourism industry can make a significant contribution to the long term re-development of tsunami affected areas, particularly areas which thrive on tourism. The Summit will also feature a workshop where the actions and strategies brought forward in the plenary session will be discussed further an with a view to developing partnering relationships and a coordinated approach to initiatives contributing to the sustained re-development and re-vitalization of tsunami affected areas.

Program:
In addition to Plenary sessions with prominent keynote speakers, the Summit program includes concurrent sessions with presentations of “Success Stories” and “Models of Best Practice” on a range of topics. Also, a series of special Forums and Meetings are scheduled for Sunday, October 2nd. Forums are: Educators Forum - Youth Leadership Forum - Young Professionals Forum and Forums on Community Tourism - Inter-Faith Dialogue- and Cultural Tourism. Meetings of the IIPT Coalition of Partners for World Peace through Tourism, and IIPT Chapters will also be held on Sunday, October 2nd. All registered delegates are welcome to both the forums and meetings.

Call for Success Stories & Best Practices:
Persons interested in presenting a Success Story or Model of Best Practice are invited to send a one page abstract to: summit2005@iipt.org. Abstracts are requested by August 15. We look forward to receiving your ideas for presentation.

Participants:
The 3rd Global Summit will bring together senior executives from all sectors of the travel and tourism industry, public and private; donor agencies and NGO’s; leading educators, researchers, practitioners, entrepreneurs, future leaders of the industry; and senior representatives from related sectors including: Culture, Sport, Environment, and Sustainable Economic Development.

Registration:
Delegates may submit registration online, by fax, or regular mail. For more details, visit www.iipt.org/3rdglobalsummit/ and click on Register, in the top far right on the blue banner bar, when online.

Should you be affiliated with an organization that would like to partner with IIPT, we invite you to learn more about becoming a Coalition Partner or Supporting Organization. Please contact us for more details on partnership opportunities.

Sponsors:
IIPT is proud to have the following Sponsors of the 3rd Global Summit on Peace through Tourism: Resorts Condominiums International (RCI), Reed Travel Exhibitions, and ETurbo News. Should you be interested in learning more about Summit Sponsorship opportunities, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Foundations:
The 3rd Global Summit builds on the foundations of 16 previous IIPT Conferences and Summits:

• Global Summits in Amman (2000) and Geneva (2003);
• African Conferences on Peace through Tourism in Mpumalanga Province, South Africa (2001), Dar es Salaam, Tanzania (2003); and Lusaka, Zambia (2005);
• Earlier Global Conferences in Vancouver (1988), Montreal (1994), Glasgow (1999) and;
• Smaller conferences and symposia in Italy, Turkey, Greece, Australia, the Caribbean, Pakistan, Israel, United States and United Kingdom.

For more details on the Summit, please visit our website: www.iipt.org/3rdglobalsummit/
Information about the Summit is also found in our most recent newsletter posted online at http://www.iipt.org/newsletter/IIPTJuly2005-2.html.

We look forward to your joining us in Thailand and your collaboration in Building a Culture of Peace through Tourism.

Sincerely yours,
Louis D’Amore

5) TICCIH 2006, the XIII Congress of the International Committee for the Conservation of Industrial Heritage, Italy

Dear friend and colleague,

We are pleased to invite you to participate in TICCIH 2006, the XIII Congress of The International Committee for the Conservation of Industrial Heritage, which will be held in Italy from the 14 to 23 September 2006.

The scientific part of the Congress will be held in Terni from Thursday 14 to Monday 18 September. Sunday 17 September will be dedicated to official meetings and visits in Rome. Other visits to industrial heritage sites in the areas surrounding Terni will be made during the Congress.

This programme will be followed by post-congress tours with the possibility of choosing between:
(a) a short trip beginning on the afternoon of the 18 September and finishing on the 20 September. This includes visits to the most important industrial sites and museums in Naples, the Reggia di Caserta and S. Leucio silk mill, and also the Amalfi coast.
(b) a longer trip beginning on the afternoon of the 18 September and finishing on the 23 September. This includes some of the main Italian industrial centres and artistic cities: Florence, Prato, Bologna, Venice, Schio, Crespi d’Adda, Sesto San Giovanni, Milan, Biella, Turin and Genoa. The tour ends in Rome, though delegates many choose to depart from Milan on the 21 September.

The TICCIH 2006 Work Group and Organising Committee have drawn up a wide-ranging programme of academic activities, scientific visits and events that will allow participants to establish contacts, exchange information, and compare different experiences at both national and international levels.
The topics that will be discussed in plenary and other parallel sessions are described in a brief summary included in this brochure. This also contains the Congress registration form and session application form. Abstracts of all proposed papers must be sent to the Organising Committee within 30 November 2005. Acceptance of papers will be decided by the Organising Committee whose decision will be communicated before the 15 February 2006. An Industrial Heritage Exhibition will be organised alongside the Congress to provide participants with the latest updates on recent projects and attainments taking place in Italy.

First Announcement & Call for papers of TICCIH 2006 has now been distributed with all the information concerning the organisation of the Congress. A second brochure with more detailed information will be sent in November 2005 to all who return the provisional application form included in the brochure within 15 October 2005. It is extremely important for the organisation to receive all information concerning participants before this date in order to lower the organisational costs and to ensure the best possible quality of service. The final registration will be made from November 2005 to May 2006.

Those who will confirm their participation will receive a third brochure in May 2006, containing the final Congress programme.

On behalf of the TICCIH 2006 Work Group, we look forward to welcoming you to Italy in September 2006.

Kind regards,
Giovanni Luigi Fontana (AIPAI - Associazione Italiana per il Patrimonio Archeologico Industriale)
Eusebi Casanelles (The International Committee for the Conservation of The Industrial Heritage)
Franco Giustinelli (ICSIM - Istituto per la Cultura e la Storia d'Impresa "Franco Momigliano")

6) ICOMOS Sri Lanka receives US$20,000 grant

Forwarded from the ICOMOS International Secretariat
1 August 2005

We have the pleasure to forward you the press release below concerning the US$ 20000 grant which ICOMOS Sri Lanka has received from the United States Ambassador’s Fund for Cultural Preservation to survey damage to historical sites in Sri Lanka following the Tsunami in December 2004. Our congratulations go to ICOMOS Sri Lanka for securing this funding and our thanks to the United States Ambassador’s Fund for Cultural Preservation for its generosity.

United States Ambassador’s Fund for Cultural Preservation Grants
USD $20,000 to Survey Damage to Historical Sites in Sri Lanka

Colombo, July 14, 2005: Tsunami damage to the historical Dutch Fort and Kumaranatunge Mawatha in Matara will be investigated and detailed through a grant from the Ambassador’s Fund for Cultural Preservation, an initiative of the United States Department of State. Professor Pali Wijeratne, the President of the Sri Lankan Chapter of the International Committee on Monuments and Sites (ICOMOS Sri Lanka) accepted the award from U.S. Ambassador Jeffrey J. Lunstead on July 14, 2005, in the amount of U.S.D. $20,934.

The funding will support a grant project called the Survey of Cultural Properties Affected by the Tsunami of December 26, for which Professor Wijeratne submitted a $20,000 proposal to the Ambassadors’ Fund for Cultural Preservation to survey tsunami damage to historical buildings in Matara. Ambassador Lunstead expressed his hope that the survey can assist in the preservation of the historic Matara area while rebuilding after the tsunami progresses.

Through the Ambassadors’ Fund for Cultural Preservation, the United States Department of State is helping Sri Lanka and other countries around the globe preserve historic sites and manuscripts, museum collections, and traditional forms of music, dance, and language. The U.S. Congress established the fund in 2001 to assist less-developed countries in preserving their cultural heritage. “The Ambassador's Fund demonstrates in measurable ways the U.S. commitment to understanding and preserving the heritage of others,” said Assistant Secretary of State for Educational and Cultural Affairs Patricia S. Harrison.

This is the first time that Sri Lanka has received a grant from the Ambassadors’ Fund. You can read more about the fund at: http://exchanges.state.gov/culprop/aFCP/.

TITLE: FREEMANTLE PRISON WA'S FIRST NATIONAL HERITAGE LISTING MEDIA RELEASE 1 AUGUST 2005
Environment and Heritage Portfolio

SNIPPET: One of Australia's most significant and intact convict sites, the former Fremantle Prison in Western Australia, has been officially recognised for its outstanding heritage value with inclusion on the prestigious National Heritage List. Making the announcement today, the Minister for the Environment and Heritage, Senator Ian Campbell, said Fremantle Prison stood alongside Port Arthur on the National Heritage List as one of the most important convict sites in Australia. The prison also would be included in an Australian Government serial nomination of convict sites for inclusion on the World Heritage List.

11) Situation Vacant:
Support person - Heritage, Environment and Community practice

Context is a busy consultancy business located in Brunswick (Melbourne), working on Environmental, Community and Heritage projects. We are looking for a person who, with guidance and supervision from consultants, will support our consultant team. The role is primarily administrative/support. The role will involve assisting project teams with a wide variety of their tasks including heritage field work, heritage research, community workshops, community information, report production. It will be a varied and interesting role. In this role you will need to have good written and personal communications skills, excellent computer skills (knowledge of the MS Office suite of packages, perhaps some knowledge of graphics packages, and able to use the internet for research) and the ability to manage your own time and workload. Most of all, you will have a keen interest in the world around you, and enjoy working in a job that offers you different challenges each day. For more information, contact David Speller or Sarah Norton at Context on (03) 9380 6933 for a more detailed description of this position.
