TITLE: Decision on Alpine National Park Heritage nomination Media Release 14 October 2005
PORTFOLIO: Environment and Heritage
SNIPPET: Senator the Hon Ian Campbell. The Australian Minister for the Environment and Heritage, Senator Ian Campbell, has decided to endorse a recommendation from the Australian Heritage Council to assess the entire Australian Alps for inclusion on the National Heritage List. “I have therefore decided to request the Australian Heritage Council to provide me with advice on the National Heritage values of the Australian Alps in their entirety.

TITLE: Mountain cattlemen and decision about heritage listing Alpine National Park 14 October 2005
PORTFOLIO: Environment and Heritage
SNIPPET: Earlier in the week Minister Campbell made a $15 million offer to the State Government that would, among other things, see a small number of cattle return to the Alpine Park.

4) Media Release
Anthony Albanese MP

Shadow Minister for the Environment and Heritage
Shadow Minister for Water
Federal Member for Grayndler

TITLE: No Respect for Anzac Heritage  Tuesday, 18 October 2005
SNIPPET: Danna Vale’s plan to recreate Anzac Cove confirms the Government’s lack of respect for our heritage. Anzac Cove is a sacred site for Australians. It cannot be recreated.

5) 2006 Fellowship: Movable Heritage NSW program
(Migration Heritage Centre and Powerhouse Museum)

Charles Sturt University students
Closing date: Monday 21 November 2005
Students at any campus of Charles Sturt University are invited to apply for a fellowship in 2006 offered jointly by the Migration Heritage Centre and the Powerhouse Museum through its Movable Heritage NSW program. Movable heritage is a term used to define any natural or manufactured object of heritage significance.

The successful student will undertake a research project on an object or group of objects in a community museum, historical society or other collecting institution that tells a story about the migration experience of an individual, community or organisation. The student will receive $5,000 and spend a minimum of one week at the Powerhouse Museum working with a supervisor.

The project outcome will depend on the student's interests. For example, in the Albury Regional Museum there is a small collection of objects relating to two Chinese market gardening families in the town. Students could:

- write a background paper on the history of market gardening in Albury as told through these objects and include significance statements for some of these objects;
- having researched the objects and their significance in Albury history, write a radio play based around the experiences of Chinese market gardeners in the district; or
- develop an activity for primary aged school children using these objects to encourage learning about Chinese migration in rural NSW.

For further information contact Rebecca Pinchin, Regional Services Coordinator, Powerhouse Museum on Freecall 1800 882 092 or email regionalservices@phm.gov.au.

The application form and flier is available at: www.migrationheritage.nsw.gov.au/about/fellowship.html

Please note closing date for applications is Monday 21 November 2005.

This project is supported by Regional Services at the Powerhouse Museum which is a statutory authority of, and principally funded by, the NSW State Government.

The Migration Heritage Centre at the Powerhouse Museum is a NSW Government initiative supported by the Community Relations Commission.

6) Situation Vacant: Cultural Heritage Practitioner

A cultural heritage practitioner is required in the Environment Section of a NSW State Government agency for a period of six months (with a possibility of on-going employment).

The successful candidate will be required to provide support to the agency’s heritage advisor. This will involve the provision of advice to project managers on archaeological and broader cultural heritage management issues, and assisting in the management of projects, including the preparation of conservation management plans and strategic heritage studies. The role will also include assisting the development of strategies and protocols to help the agency meet its legislative requirements under relevant State and Federal environment and heritage legislation.

Experience in both indigenous and non-indigenous cultural heritage management would be an advantage. The position would suit a recent graduate, or a practitioner with up to five years professional experience. Training and hands-on experience provided.

This position is available because the previous contractor has moved to a permanent position.

Pre-requisites

- Degree and/or experience in archaeology, history, cultural heritage management or a related field.
- Current motor vehicle driver’s licence.

The successful applicant may be required to travel within NSW and work outside normal working hours on occasions. The position is based in Western Sydney.

For more information please contact Greg Newling at Hamble Human Resources (02) 9987 2640 or e-mail: hr@hamble.com.au
