A stretch of the Calder Highway, Victoria. Part of the original route to the Victorian goldfields.

du Cros and Associates, archaeological and heritage consultants, are in the process of conducting a cultural heritage assessment of the Harcourt/Ravenswood segment of the highway for VicRoads.

The aerial photograph was taken on 4 July 1997, at a scale of 1:15 000 and has been supplied courtesy of VicRoads.

contents

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Editorials</th>
<th>page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Jane Lennon</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The cultural landscapes of Aboriginal long distance exchange systems: can they be confined within our heritage registers?
Isabel McBryde
Cultural linkages and nodes: concepts useful for Aboriginal cultural landscapes and local government planning schemes?
Dr Hilary du Cros
Rural fences: perhaps the most common (and most commonly neglected) component of European cultural landscapes in Australia
Dr John Pickard
Cultural landscapes as an analytical tool: analysing squatting landscapes
Iain Stuart
Seeing the woods and the trees: cultural landscapes in forests
Sandy Blair (paper presented by Joy McCann)
Trees as heritage items
Warwick Mayne-Wilson
Wingecarribee Shire heritage study and the thematic history
R. Ian Jack
The Upper Mersey River Valley, Tasmania: assessing cultural values in a natural area
Jim Russell
Identifying, assessing, conserving and managing elements of a cultural landscape: a case study of the Alstonville Plateau, north-eastern New South Wales
Jane Gardiner and Stephanie Knox
A south-west perspective on the United States National Park Service Cultural Landscapes Program
Jillian Cowley
Community values in cultural landscape decision making: developing recommendations for ensuring planning processes include differing expectations of communities of interest
Pamela Kaufman
Recognition of landscape values workshop: a summary
Helen Armstrong
Group discussion (notes by Joy McCann)
Book reviews:
Archive Fever: A Freudian Impression
by Jacques Derrida (translated by Eric Prenowitz)
Rowan Wilken
Robin Boyd A Life
by Geoffrey Serle
Justin Madden

volume 13 numbers 3 & 4 1997